[Correspondence of the Whig & Courier'] Quincy, 1tl. July 26, 1838.

Long before this reaches you, my last, dated at Louisville, must have been received. The boat, in which we had taken passage for St. Louis, did not leave Louisville till the next day after that letter was dated. We were then four day's in getting to St. Louis and two more to this place, making seven days in all on board one boat. The Ohio, below as well as above, is difficulty in making the Mississippi the wild the muddy the almost frightful Mississippi... This river, too, we found quite low, and consequently full of anags and sand bars, rendering its navigation difficult and dangerous. Added ; to this, was a genuine Western boat race which, lasting as it did, for several hours, rendered the (mayoidable dangers of the river still more formidable. Our rival, which was the faster boat, finally got ahead, soon after which and full in sight, she broke her shaft, and was compelled to lay by, asking our Capt. for assistance as she passed. This boat was the Pirate, the very name of which might inspire in us some feelings of dread. At St. Louis we found a young gentleman from Banger who was to ascend the Mississippi with us; and our party now consisted of three from your city' all Messrs. W ... and all of course-thinking ourselves quite fortunate in our company.

The Mississippi, above the mouth of the Missouri, is as clear and placid, as it is below turbidand boiling. The banks and country, also, have theproved in a corresponding manner above, and that inclancholy washing away of the soil constantly going forward below is here nowhere to be seen. Below Quincy which we knew we should reach in the latter part of the night we return as usual to rest, the Capt, assuring us we should be awaken in season to prepare for landing. But what was our surprise in the morning when we awoke, to learn that ac were already about twelve miles above our stapping place! Our boat was just now making the little town of La Grange on the Mississippi side, when no alternative was left us but to land and get back to this place as we could. Our Gapt was innorrigible, as is all , a the case un der similar circumstances, and we could have no 12 dress. Fortunately, however, but two of us had paid our passage, which; in many cases. is not paid until about leaving the boat, so that we felt somewhat indifferent as to the result. From 14 Grange, we came down to Quincy in a small long cance five of us, with all our baggage, the whole making about as much as we could float with. The river was calm, however, and we had quite a pleasant sail, being two hours and a half coming down. Our only fear was in crossing the river, from steamboats passing, which would certainly have sunk our frail cance. We thought this a novel as well as primitive mode of travelling.

Having nowbeen in Quincy a day, the most A hich has been passed in viewing the town, Lam at least partially prepared to give an opini'w conserning its location, healthiness and business prospects. But little of the town is to be fron from the river, unless you are at considerably distance either above or below, in which g se it aprears to advantage. The site is sufficiently elevated, and the country, both above and below and in the rear for miles, stretches of nearly on a level with the town, and only Mil u or rendered slightly uneven by gentle undalations of praire and a cod-land intermixed. Besides these items, large amounts of corn, potatoes and other crops gether, then, I think I do not hazard much in I saying Quincy is to be a place of considerable importance in the West. Its population is how but little over two thousand, though the most of this has been the increase of the last four years. Upon the whole, I am highly pleased with Quincy, as may be inferred from the foregoing imore pleased than with any small town in the West. I The desperation of the locofocos is daily becoming more notorious. Their impudence has at length settled down into a regular system. of bullying and attempts to browbeat. As the day of election approaches they grow more and more rabid, and no means are too low and contemplible to be used to accomplish their vile purposes. Their madness is a sore precursor of their utter annihilation. Within the last few days, it has increased upon them to an alarming extent. A few more such conventions as that of last week, where the people truly arose in their might, will put an end to their political existence even without an election. But the last fatal blow is reserved for the 10th of September, when it will fall with such violence up-

We had begun to fearthat the General Government, would is able completely to mislend and mystify the "Dirigo" State; Georgia, in a back cause, had blustered the General Government, and had succeeded by blustering; Mame, in a perfectly just and good cause had been cajoled for twenty years, and, for aught we could see twelve months ago, was likely to be esjoied twenty years longer. But the firm and vigorous conduct of Governor Kent has put a different face upon the affair. He is determined. that his State shall be trifled with no longer; he is taking measures to have the rights of Mains investigated, and, strange to say, this is the first time, notwithstanding all the talk upon the subject, that any such steps have been taken or have even been meditated! He is going to have the line run, and to have a proper survey taken of the disputed boundary, with the consent and concurrence of the Government, if they chose,

> From the New York Mirror ON THE MARRIED STATE:

 Knowing that you are shortly to enter a garden, enclosed, and that you are, a present, a stranger to this garden, permit an old riend to give you some account of it. I have travelled every part and every path; know every production of every kind it can possibly yield and, as my infirmation can do you no harm, it may do you some good.

You know there is but one way of entrance I need hardly tell you that it is extreamely gay and glittering strewed with flowers of every hue and every fragrance, with all that art or imagination can invent. You may fundly hope this scene of rapture will never after, as you will not-see the end of the path, when you enter it. To some it proves a short one and to you it may appear very different in the retrospect. Here, my dear girl, let me caution you not to dream of perfect or perpetual bliss; if you do, experience will show you that it never existed on earth, save in visions, or visionary heads.

-You will meet with many productions in this garden, which are charming to the eye and pleasgarden one of the most delicious and deheate plants in nature I mean good humor. Don't they entered, who seldom, if ever, found it actria a treasure which nothin up to you.

When you get to the end of the first walk which lasts about thirty steps commonly called honey-moon path, you will see the garden open in a vast variety of views and here I must caution you against some productions which are nauseous and noxious, and even fatal in their tendency to the unwary and ignorant.

There is a low, small plant, which may be seen in almost every path, called indifference, though not perceived at the entrance. You will always know when near this plant, though you do not see it, by a certain coldness in the air which surrounds it. Contrary to all others, it thrives in cold, and dies in warmth. Whenever you perceive this, change your situation as soon as you can.

In the same path is often found that ugly, yellow flower, called Jealousy, which I wish you never to look at. Turn from it as fast as possible for it has the strange quality of tingeing the eve that holds it with a stain which it seldom gets rid of.

As you go in you will meet with many crooked little paths but do not go into them. I atvise you, as a friend, never to attempt it; for though, at the entrance of each, is written, in large letters," In the right," when you get in, in nine cases out of ten, you will find the true name to be Perseverence, and that you are inthe wrong, and will not but acknowledge it. This often occasions endless disputes here is a source of perpetual difference, and sometimes of a final separation in the garden.

Near this spot, you will inect with a sturdy. knotty plant, salled Obstinacy, hearing a hard, bitter fruit, which becomes fatal when taken in large quantities. Turn from it avoid it as you vould the plague

Just opposite to this, grows that lowly, lovely shrub, Compliance; which, though not pleasant to the polate, is salutary and sweet, and produces the most delicious fruit in the garden. Never be without a sprig of it in your hand will often be wanted as you go along; it you do not, gou will surely repent the want of it.

All over the garden you may find a useful plant, called Economy. It is of a thriving quality; take a good stock of items you go in adorus and enriches at the same time. Many entirely overlook it; some despise it, and others think they want it. It is generally forgotten in the harry and gaiety, with which people enter this place; but the total want of it is comcouly paid for with bitter repentance. I must iell you; unless both paytake of it, it will unswer fittle end to either. You may if you please narry some with you into the garden; but it is a hundred to one if you do not lose it ju going in. This is more useful then what you will find there for it is of another sort. Provide yourself and your partner with a proper quantity of it, as soon as you can, when in the place.

You observe, as you pass, two or three baths.

Enter ibooc paths almost as soon as you enter the seed of and take my word for it, if you do, you will never get out of them; once fairly in you are in for life and the worst of it is, that if you do not find them soon, you will never find them at terwards. Near this walk, is found that invaluable, shrab Hear this walk, in 1901 of no worth in itself, yet hamility. This though of no worth in itself, yet joined with other good qualities, is worth them all put together. It is never seen without being admired; and is most amiable when not visible They say " virtue is its own reward" 1 am cer. tain pride is its own punishment. Flee from it as from a contagion, which it strongly resembles It infects and corrupts. Cultivate with all your care the humble plant now mentioned, as tha best antidote against this poisonous weed-

Allow me here to drop a hint on the subject of cultivation, as that most probably will be your employment. Should you be entrusted with the rearing of a flower, remember two things : first that is but a flower, however fair trail in its nature, and fading at every blast; and sconnd that it is a flower in trust for the cultivation of which you are accountable to the owner of the garden.

Should you be a witness to a blast on its drawing beauties, oh, how your fluttering heart will bleed with tenderness: Let affection sym. pathise. Youtsfellogs may be conceived, but they cannot be described. The young shoot will natuely and insensibly twine around the ilbres of your frame. Should it live and thrive, spare no pains to teach the young production how to rise. Werd it, water it, prune it-it will need them all. Without this, many weeeds will grow up and poison the very soil on which

-Remember this is a smart for which you are accountable to him who gave it. That you may be blest with the sweetest productions of this garden that they may be the delight of your eyes, and that you and they, when the sommer. of this life is over, may be transplanted to some happier soil, and flourish in immortal vigor, in perfect and perminent felicity, is the mocera wish of your affectionate friend. The reservoir when full is capable of holding 44 feet of water and as it is fed by numerous springs is presumed will afford a boundlike apply of water for the mills through any lordinary drought. Without this reservoir, which has recently been constructed, the mills were kept in operation throughout the whole of the year 1833, Aidi the interruption of about one month only

The facilities for supplying contracts for dimension lumber at lese mills in the drough of the season and during winter when most other mills are sus-, pended in heir operation for want of water, can readily be perceived by those acquainted with the The forests hordering on the pond and stream leading to said mills afford an abundant supply of

DR BRANDRETH'S GENUINE PILLS

Doctor Sangrado's system still Lives in the world, to kill, to kill ' THIS system does indeed live still, and is practised by the very man who laugh at Doctor Sangrado as a visionary fool. The immaculate Faculty!! Let this truth he impressed upon every mind that all pain and weakness proceed from the presence of morbid, stagnant and corrupt humors. IN THE BODY by which the circulation of the blood is impeded, and that the only sensible method is to remove them from the stouach & bowels, then take Brandreth's Pills concocted forth

From the pure products of the earth They own no after sad alloy, They often save, but ne'er destroy!

BLEEDING ALWAYS IMPROPER. "For the life of the flesh is in the blood," Levit BRANDRETH'S VEGETABLE UNIVERSAL PILLE shall have been appreciated, blacking will no longer be thought of as a remedit for diseases, for in violent inflammations, eight or ten of them will take in the course of two or three hours, more of the impure humors from the body, by the stomach and bowels, than theeding to the extent of forty ounces could possibly have done and it should be remembered that the Pills remove ONLY those parts from the blood which were the cause of in-flammation, whereas bleeding removes the essential parts also. How great the prostration of all the corporeal povers after a copious bleeding? On the contrary what against and strength is felt after a dose of this medicine; the body is indeed hightened of a load. Nothing is equal to ridding the vitiated humors with a vegetable medicine of this kind, which 84 years have proved never to do A dose of these Pills will bring at down Is it ton tow? the same means will increase it to a proper standard. vHE most safe, effectual and economical remed; for diseases of the Human Constitution, that has ever been discovered

These Pills are composed entirely of meterials extracted from Medical Plants, and are warranted not to contain one particle of mercury or any mineral substance. Dr Kingley, the inventor of this valuable medicine, from his knowledge of the human system derived from a long and extensive practice, has arrived to the conclusion, that the great and Primary cause of most diseases is a derangement in the functions of the liver; or in other words an in-creased or diminished secretion of the Bile

So will is this understood, that it is common for persons to say when they feel unwell that they are bilious, meaning that they have too much bile in the stomach. On the other hand, when the flow of bile is a great absurdity. Every one who reflects upon and finally gave himself up to death. After being the subject a moment, will perceive that impurity of the blood is a secondary, not a primary complain the effect, and not the cause of the disease. the functions of the liver are deranged, and the flow of hile increased, it is often taken up by the absorbent vessels and carried into the circulation, and becomes mingled with the blood a min Jaundice, when the patient shows it in his countenance. Now impurity of the blood is caused by an increased flow of the bile, and to remedy it you must correct the secretion of the liver and restore it to a healthy state.

Dr Kingley has spent much time in experimenting with different vegetable medicines, for diseases of the liver, and now offers his Universal Family Pills as the best, most convenient and cheapest medicine that can be prepared for general use; and in offering them to the public, he is actuated more by benevolent than pecuniary motives, as the price of the medicine will show

Dr Lingley flatters himself that his long experi m aring with vegetable medicines has enabled him to discover the time and only substitute answering all the purpose of mercurials, without any of attendant evils. One great quality of his family Pills is, that they have the alternive principle combined with their cathartic or operative quality, so that they not only cleanse the stomach and howels by purging, but they regulate the liver—change the morbid secretions, strengthen the digestive organs, purify the blood, invigorate the circulation, and give tone and energy to the nervous system

They are mild and pleasant in their operation, and almost immediate conviction of their utility from the first dosc. They can be taken with safety by per sons of any age, and the feeble, the infirm the ner your the delicate, are strengthened by their operation, because they clear the system of bad humors, quiet nervous irritabilities and restlessness, from whatever source, and invariably produce sound sleep.

The Camily Pills are an invariable remedy for headache, dyspepsia, costiveness, sickness of the stomach heartburn, all I feel the medicine has been of very great service at the commencement will invariably check their and that the diseases under which I labored have progress, and save the patient from a protracted They are myaluable in and dangerous sickness nervous and hypochondriacal affections.loss of anuetite and all complaints to which females alone are subject.
